Dear Mrs. Freedman

As per your request as to the health of your darling husband I can state that he is in the best of health the only thing I can find wrong with him, he is Lazy Cuss a thing I cannot remedy, ~~I~~ you are the best doctor for this ailment

Dear friend though unknown to me accept my congratulation on your wisdom & good taste I shall conclude with regret that I have no more to write for the present & hope when you will be in Memphis & it is not too far distant I will be able to paint out to you the good qualities of your husband

I am ever

Respectfully

H. [illegible]
